formed about only three of its more important details—the Chairman, the Secretary, and the place of meeting. The Government ought to appoint the Chairman without further delay, for disagreement on the subject at the first sitings of the Convention might impair the temper of all the later proceedings. The Secretary—or, rather, the staff of Secretaries—should be Irish for many reasons, and we think that the Government to ignore a situation which should have been under its notice for months and then suddenly to tackle reasons, and we think that the Government is beginning to recognise this necessity. Two buildings have been offered for the place of meeting—the Regent House of Trinity College and the premises of the Royal College of Surgeons. Sentiment plays a large part in Irish affairs, and we think that the historical associations of Trinity College should outweigh any slight advantages in the way of material convenience that the College of Surgeons may possess. If the latter building is selected, the enemies of settlement will certainly recall Gavan Duffy's description of Ireland as "a corpse on the dissecting table." The personnel of a majority

Great indignation is expressed by the Ulster Unionists at the publication of the names of those nominated to represent the Ulster Party in the Convention. It was expressly intended that the names should be reserved for publication by the Prime Minister, on the ground, among others, that there might possibly be some discussion with him over them. Mr. Stewart called attention to-day to the fact that captive officers of our mercantile marine in Germany are being treated exactly on the same footing as the seamen because the extra payment necessary to their better treatment is not forthcoming. Among these officers, it may be noted, is Captain Blaikie, of the Caledonia. The difficulty arises owing to uncertainty whether the Board of Trade or the Admiralty should make the payment. The question is being approached very sympathetically by both departments, and a settlement will speedily be reached.

MR. DUKE AND THE CHAIRMANSHIP.

Invitations are now being issued, says our London Correspondent, to the Chairmen of Irish County Councils to take part in the Irish self-government Convention. These invitations could not be sent out before, as the Councils referred to have only just been appointing their new Chairmen. There appears to be a growing feeling that Mr. Duke, K.C., will be the Chairman of the Convention, though, of course, that will be a matter for the representatives to that body themselves to decide.

He moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Stephen O'Mara said that he was in favour of having the resolution passed unanimously. He hoped that the Convention would settle the difference between Ireland and the Empire. (Hear, hear.) Nothing tended so much to injure the commerce of a country more

DUBLIN'S POTATO SUPPLY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR.—On the 17th May last the Lord Mayor of Dublin, at the request of the County Dublin Farmers' Association, convened a meeting at tailers to discuss the wholesale purchase and sale of potatoes in the City of Dublin. Representatives were present from the County Dublin Farmers' Association, the City of Dublin. Representatives were present from the County Dublin Farmers' Association, and the Dublin Greengrocers' Association, and the Dublin Greengrocers' Potato and Fruiterers' Association. Chaos at present rules the marketing of potatoes in Dublin. Every farmer, factor, and retailer is a law unto him or horself. At the meeting at the Mansion House two resolutions were passed and carried unanimously:—

That, in the opinion of the meeting, it would be advisable failure. RATHMINES PARISH SALE.

MacKeown), and seconded by Mr. Thomas Corocran:

That five members from each association be appointed to draw up a statement expressing the views of this meeting for submission to the Markets Committee for its guidance in framing byelaws, etc. Having settled the principle of a central potato market, this meeting also decided that each association should select five representatives at the next meeting of each respective association to form a joint committee to go into details. This joint committee met on Thursday, 14th June, in the offices of the County Dublin Farmers' Association, 55 Middle Abbey street. But the proceedings proved abortive as the accuracy of the Mansion House resolutions, as resorted in the Fresman's Journal and the Irish Times of May 19th, was questioned by some of the factors. Unless, therefore, the hands of the Lord Mayor are strengthened by the force of The sale in progress in the Parochial Hall, Belgrave square, Dublin, was well attended yesterday, and the outdoor amusements fared well, thanks to excellent weather. The sale will be continued to-day from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. During the evening the band of the lat Dublin Company Boys' Brigade will play in the grounds.

THE IRISH TIMES, SATURDAY; JUNE 23, 1917.

Yesterday a conference of delegates from practically every county in Ireland, and representing the entire Irish licensed trade, was held in the offices of the central organisation, Commercial Buildings, Dublin, for the purpose of emphatically protesting against the threatened proposals of the Government to take control of the liquor trade, and demanding the withdrawal of the present restrictions, or that a much larger supply of beer be allowed to be brewed and distributed.

Mr. John Conroy, President of the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Protection Association, occupied the chair,

The Chairman, in opening the proceedings, welcomed those present, and said that they would no longer put up with drastic liquor restrictions, which had already been the means of causing untold hardship and ruin to their business. The trade to a man felt determined to resist to the bitter end any scheme put forward for State control of the Ilquor trade. A small deputation, representing the retail licensed trade of England, Scotland, and Ireland, had had an interview with Lord Milner, and, though they were enjoined to secrecy as to the proceedings, they were at liberty to explain to their own executive committees what had transpired at that interview. He, as Chairman of the Irish licensed trade, had put the case of Ireland clearly sofore Lord Milner, drawing his attention to the vast difference existing between the Irish licensed trade, and the English trade, and that in any scheme brought forward this difference in the conditions of trading should be taken into consideration. THE DIOCESAN COUNCIL.

The annual report of the Diocesan Council recorded with great regret the deaths of the Very Rev. M. W. Day, Dean of Waterford, Mr. R. G. Ridgway, Colonel Watson, and Colonel Cotton. On December 31st, 1916, there were the following capital funds to the credit of the diocese:—Diocesan Stipend Fund, £33,522, an increase of £219; Joint Episcopal Fund, £40,000; Superannuation Fund, £10,455, an increase of £115; allocated private endowments, £15,125; and parcohial endowments, £35,329, an increase of £104. The total credit balance was £235,118 12s., an increase of £048. Sa. 5d. The stipends paid under the diocesan financial scheme amounted to £7,402 15s. Id. The total assessments received had exceeded these paid last year by £107, and the net balance to credit under the diocesan financial scheme was £219 3s. 5d.

Archdeacon Burkitt, moving the adoption of the report, said that he regarded the present as an inopportune time to begin reforming the organization of the Church of Ireland. (Hear, hear.) The principal engagement is that of Miss Marguerite Scialisel, supported by Henry Sheverel and Inex Bensusan, in the one-act comedy entitled "My Lonely Soldier." Other artists who contribute "turns" are Claude Golden, Australian card expert; The Lisbons, Miss Alice Hollander, the Australian singer, in songs and recitations; J. H. Wakefield, Arthur Bulle, May Kinahan, and Mazuz and Mazette. The Royal bioscope will show the latest pictures.

Mr. G. Haviland Burke's Company will appear at the Queen's Theatre next week in Edmond Falconer's Irish comedy drama, "Eileen Oge; or Dark's the Hour before the Dawn." The piece is in twelve scenes, with an interval between the fifth and sixth. A feature of the production will be the scene in the Hayfields, where special songs and dances will be introduced. The cast will include a number of the old Queen's Theatre and of Abboy Theatre artists, amongst the former being Messrs. Delaney, Condron, and Sullivan, and amongst the latter Messrs. Haviland-Burke, Fred. Harford, Peter Nolan, and the Misses Moha O'Driscoll, Shoila O'Sullivan, and May Craig. The play will be produced by Mr. Auguste Creamer, author of "Irish Life," etc.

Mary Connolly, "the Dublin Street Singer," has been so successful at the Empire Theatre that she has been re-engaged, and will sing there next week. Mr. Walter McNally and Miss Teresa Owens will appear in an Irish vocal second, with special scenery and effects, and Napoli, the violinist, will pay a return visit. A new sketch, entitled "Uncle Barney's Dollars," by R. J. Hughes, will be played by a Dublin company. Other engagements are the second. as an mopportune time to begin reforming the organisation of the Church of Ireland. (Hear, hear.) A Commission would meet in the first week of October to rake up the finance of the Church with the object of increasing, if possible, the stipends of the clergy. In justice to the Commission, he should say that there was also an idea of increasing the work of the clergy. In that diocese they were quite in possession of facts which would enable them to applicable them.

THE WAR AND ROSE'S LIME JUICE

Restricted supplies of sugar, and the urgent requirements of the Wer Office, British Red Cross Society, and the Y.M.C.A. for Rose's Lime Jaice Cordial for the use of the British Expeditionary Forces and Wounded is Hospital have usecessitated a stoppage in the supply to the general public so long as the urgency exists. Should your grocer, wine merchant, or druggist be unable to supply you with the cordial, try a bottle of ROSE'S UNSWEETENED LIME JUICE at the same price. A small quantity of this diluted with plain or soda wate with or without the addition of a little sugar, provides the drink that most completely quenches thirst, cools and invigorates.
